Administrative Experience

2016–present: Dean, School of Education, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

This position reports directly to the provost & executive vice chancellor. The school is home to 55 faculty members, 40 staff members, and 15 post-doctoral fellows and grant coordinators. Two associate deans, four assistant deans, and all faculty members report directly to the dean. In 2021, the school had a total budget of $22 million, an overall research portfolio of $83 million, and $17 million in total research expenditures. The school's endowment stands at $25 million. The school has two undergraduate, six master's, one online, two EdD, and six PhD programs that enroll 845 undergraduate, professional, and graduate students. US News & World Report ranks eight school programs between #14 and #22 nationally. The school is currently ranked #23 among all, and #14 among public, schools and colleges of education by US News & World Report.

2014–2016: Associate Dean for Research & Research Education, College of Education, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

This position reported directly to the dean, managed the college's research portfolio, and served as director of the Bureau of Educational Research (BER). The college has four departments, all ranked among top 10 or top 20 national programs by US News & World Report. During my tenure, the college had 100 faculty members, 40 staff members, and about 1,700 in-person and online undergraduate, professional, and graduate students. The overall research portfolio was $55 million with $15 million in annual expenditures. As BER director, this position supervised six fulltime staff members who provided extensive pre-award services: Grant prospecting and matching, interpreting RFPs and submission requirements, building grant budgets, developing ancillary and supporting proposal documents, advising on research design, securing partnerships with other units and organizations, negotiating and securing sub-awards and award transfers, and submitting grant proposals.

2011–2015: Head, Department of Curriculum and Instruction, College of Education, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

This position reported to the dean of the college. During my tenure, the department was home to 28 faculty members and 6 staff members—all direct reports to the head. In 2015, the overall budget was $3.25 million with $1.03 million in total research expenditures. The department enrolled 600 students in undergraduate, professional, and graduate programs that prepare early childhood through secondary school teachers. Programs also included master's, EdD, and PhD programs in curriculum, early childhood, language and literacy, science and mathematics, and aesthetics education. The department is among the best in the nation and consistently ranked in the top 8 departments of curriculum and instruction by the US News & World Report.

Association of Arab Universities (AARU), Kuwait Foundation for the Advancement of Science (KFAS), and Kuwaiti Society for the Advancement of Arab Children (KSAAC), Amman, Jordan.
- Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2015, October). Integration, intersection, disjunction: Toward an empirical research programme on the question(s) of Islam and science. Invited talk presented at the Workshop on Science Teaching in Contemporary Islamic Societies. Center for Islam and Science, McGill University, Montreal, Canada.
- Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2014, September). Testing to teach and teaching to the test: Student learning and 21st century priorities for school science education. Invited public lecture delivered at the University of Johannesburg, South Africa.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2014, September). The 'next generation' science standards: Implications of authentic scientific practices for precollege science teaching and learning. Invited seminar conducted at the Department of Science and Technology Education, the University of Johannesburg, South Africa.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2014, May). Assessing understandings of nature of science in science education: Past, present, and future. Invited colloquium, German Chemical Society, University of Cologne, Cologne, Germany.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2013, June). On context and teaching about NOS: What history and inquiry tell us about using history of science and inquiry instruction to teach about NOS. Invited keynote presented at the International Workshop on Sociocultural Approaches to Socioscientific Issues and Nature of Science, Ewha Women University, Seoul, South Korea.

Abd-El-Khalick, F., & Myers, J. (2013, February). The evolving landscape related to assessment of nature of science understandings: The development and validation of a scoring rubric for the Views of Nature of Science (VNOS) Questionnaire. Invited seminar conducted at the Department of Mathematics and Science Education, Stockholm University, Sweden.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2012, November). Nature of science in science education: The why, the what, and the how. Invited presentation to the Unit of Teacher Education, Department of Chemistry, Faculty of Science, University of Helsinki, Finland.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2012, September). What History and inquiry tell us about using history of science and inquiry-oriented instruction to teach about nature of science. Invited keynote address presented at the Conference on Learning to Teach Nature of Science: A Question of Context? University of Cologne, Cologne, Germany.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2012, June). Framing research and development on nature of science in science education: Enduring confluences, critical issues, and fruitful pathways. Invited keynote address presented at the Nature of Science Conference, Pamukkale University, Denizli, Turkey.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2012, May). Nature of science in precollege science classrooms: Preparing the 'next generation' science students. Invited keynote address presented at the Nature of Science Conference, Pamukkale University, Denizli, Turkey.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2012, May). Nature of science and citizenship: Why do understandings of nature of science matter in everyday life? Invited keynote address to the Kids Participation in Educational Research (KiP²) Project, University of Vienna, Vienna, Austria.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2012, May). Teaching with and about nature of science: Inquiry, nature of science, and science teachers' pedagogical content knowledge. Invited seminar presented at the Austrian Educational Competence Center—Biology, University of Vienna, Vienna, Austria.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2012, March). Preparing the 'next generation' science students: Implications of authentic scientific practices for precollege science teaching and learning. Invited plenary session presented at the Fourteenth Annual Science and Math Teachers Conference (SMEC XIV), American University of Beirut, Beirut, Lebanon.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2011, June). Teaching with and about nature of science: Teacher knowledge domains and explicit-reflective nature of science instruction. Invited keynote address to the International Workshop on Science Teaching and History and Philosophy of Science: “Science Studies and Science Education: How Science Works and How to Teach about It,” organized by the European Society for the History of Science, Aarhus University, Århus, Denmark.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2010, October). Nature of science in science education: Enduring confluences and critical issues. Invited seminar conducted at the Department of Mathematics and Science Education, Stockholm University, Sweden.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2010, August). Assessment and evaluation in teacher professional development. Invited plenary session presented at the policy institute on “Embedding Excellence: Transforming Professional Development for Educators” organized by the Technology Tools for Teaching & Training Project, Bangalore, India.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2010, August). Key elements of a high quality professional development system. Invited session presented at the policy institute on “Embedding Excellence: Transforming Professional Development for Educators” organized by the Technology Tools for Teaching & Training Project, Bangalore, India.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2009, November). Nature of science in science teaching and learning: The what, the why, and the how. Invited keynote address delivered at the international conference on “Science Education: Shared Issues, Common Future” organized by the National Institute of Education, Singapore.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2007, March). Teaching and learning science with information and communication technologies. Invited plenary session presented at the “Looking Forward Summit: Harnessing Information and Communication Technologies to Build the Future of Yemeni Education,” Tai’z, Yemen.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2005, June). Wonderland. Invited keynote speech delivered at the Department of Education Commencement Ceremony, American University of Beirut, Beirut, Lebanon.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2001, May). Teaching about nature of science: Truth, objectivity, the scientific method, and other lies my teacher told me. Invited plenary session presented at the Fifth Annual Science and Math Teachers Conference (SMEC V), American University of Beirut, Beirut, Lebanon.

National

Abd-El-Khalick, F., & Graham, A. (2021, November). Reassessing and rebuilding our educator workforce. Chief State School Officers Unfinished Learning Retreat, The Hunt Institute and SAS, Cary, NC.

Abd-El-Khalick, F., Anderson, C. J., Anderson, R. C., Cope, W., & Feinberg, W. (2019, September). Celebrating 100 years of educational research. Panel conducted at the 100th Anniversary Celebration of the Bureau of Education Research, College of Education, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, Champaign, IL.

Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2016, October). Toward an empirical research programme on the question(s) of Islam and science. Keynote address presented at the Fourth Annual International Symposium: Mathematics and Science Education in the Muslim World, Teachers College Columbia University, New York, NY.

- Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2016, February). How I learned to stop worrying about producing little scientists, and/or little historians and philosophers of science and love persuasion: Toward K-12 science literacy that matters. Invited talk presented at the Colloquium on How Can History and Philosophy of Science Contribute to Science Literacy and Citizenship? Center for Philosophy and History of Science, Boston University, MA.
- Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2012, December). What history teaches us about using history of science to teach about nature of science. Invited talk presented at the Conference on Teaching Science through History and Philosophy of Science: How can the HPS Contribute to Contemporary U.S. Science Teaching. Center for Philosophy and History of Science, Boston University, MA.
- Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2009, October). A 'longitudinal' study of the representations of nature of science in high school science textbooks. Invited seminar presented at the Center for Excellence in Science, Mathematics, and Engineering Education, Iowa State University, Ames, IA.
- Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2009, October). Science literacy: What are we trying to teaching with online courses? Invited seminar presented at the Conference on Designing Effective Online Science Courses, Parkland College, Champaign, IL.
- Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2007, April). Setting an empirically supported and synergistic agenda for research on nature of science. Invited seminar presented at the Center for Science and Mathematics Education, College of Education, University of Texas at Austin, TX.
- Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2003, November). The development of students' science epistemologies in the middle and high school years: A cross-sectional study. Invited seminar presented to the Department of Curriculum & Instruction, Purdue University, West Lafayette, IN.
- Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2003, September). The development and schooling of views of nature of science in secondary school: An exploratory study. Invited seminar presented at the Institute for Science Education, Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, MI.
- Abd-El-Khalick, F. (2002, January). The development of students' science epistemologies in the middle and high school years. Invited seminar presented at the Department of Curriculum & Instruction, School of Education, Indiana University Bloomington, Bloomington, IN.
- McComas, W., Abd-El-Khalick, F., Chiapetta, G., Lawson, A. E., Good, R. (2001, November). What research says about nature of science and science teaching: An instant update. Invited plenary session conducted at the 6th International History, Philosophy, and Science Teaching Conference, Denver, CO.
- Abd-El-Khalick, F., Brown, D., & Gutiérrez, R. (2001, September). Involving faculty and their research in the preparation of teacher educators. Talk given at the "Invitational Forum on Exemplary Practices and Challenges in Teacher Preparation" organized by the American Association of Universities and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, Cambridge, MA.
