

MAT Prerequisites Approval Form

Elementary/Special Ed/ESL Strand

The form is used to capture all approved equivalents for MAT content-required prerequisites for admissions. You should list all potential courses you have taken, or plan to take for each prerequisite course below. You are also required to send along with the respective course description or preferably course syllabus to the program for review purposes.

Name: _____ Content Area: _____ Admission Year _____

UNC Prerequisite course	Content required	Equivalent course # and title <small>*filled by the prospective student</small>	Course description (and/or course syllabus) <small>*filled by the prospective student</small>	Program Approval <small>*filled by the program staff or faculty</small>
LING 101 Introduction to Linguistic <small>*The approved equivalents are provided below for those who seek resources<sup>1</sup></small>	Includes content that is an analysis of human language, including sounds, words, sentences and language acquisitions.
EDUC 532 Learning and Development <sup>2</sup>	includes human lifespan development or child development
EDUC 307 Mathematics in Elementary Schools <sup>3</sup>	includes content related to mathematical problem-solving and mathematical reasoning. In addition, it explores real numbers and algebraic equations.

<sup>1</sup> The MAT faculty approved following online courses that satisfy LING 101. The websites are provided here if you need the resources.

- Coursera Course: Miracles of Human Language: An Introduction to Linguistics
- UAGC: LNG 101 Introduction to Language
- Phoenix: ENG/380 Applied Linguistics

<sup>2</sup> The MAT faculty approved following online courses that satisfy EDUC 532. The websites are provided here.

- Northcentral Tech College: Developmental Psychology
- Doane University: PSYC 259 Lifespan Development

<sup>3</sup> EDUC 307 is offered at UNC School of Education; For non-UNC students, auditing this course can be counted as a prerequisite with the conditions below.

- Return the auditing paperwork by January 4, 2024. Please reach out to jiali@unc.edu to request the forms and the procedure for auditing
- The expectation is to successfully complete this course with a grade of pass, requiring class attendance/participation and assignment completion

Created by June 9, 2023